Tickets can be obtained from members of the committee and at the following places: Otis library, George A. Davis', Bray's drug store, Greeneville, and Rathbone's drug store, West Side. They can also be produced at the ticket office in the armory this evening. Admission is 50 cents and tables for four can be reserved without extra charge. Ushers will be in attendance at the armory with lists to direct people to the tables reserved for them.

Four Prizes to Each Section.

Doors will be open at 7 o'clock and a concert will be given by the Harmony club from 7 until 8 o'clock. Patrons are urged to come early, so as to avoid confusion in admitting and seating the large attendance that is expected. Play will begin promptly at 8 o'clock and will continue until 10. Either straight or bridge whist will be allowed, and the playing will not be progressive, so that every party of four will play together during the evening. Scoring will commence with the first hands played, and those coming late will be at a disadvantage in an effort to qualify as prize winners. The armory will be laid out in sections, 12 tables in each section, four players at a table. Seventy prizes in all will be awarded to the winners, four to each section. These prizes consist of silverware, china, pictures, books, potted plants, flowers, etc. Four Prizes to Each Section.

COLONIAL THEATRE.

Cricket on the Hearth, Immense Two-Reel Biograph Feature.

The programme at the Colonial the-airs today is one of intense interest and beauty, and begins with the su-perb rendition of Dickens' immortal Cricket on the Hearth. There have been many attempts to present this remarkable story of a nicturesque are remarkable story of a picturesque era, but it remained for the Biograph company to make a success of it. Today's feature is a beauty in every way, and one that will repay for all the effort one that will repay for all the effort one might make to get out to see it. Another big picture triumph for today is the splendid Vitagraph drama, A Rose and a Thorn. This is a superla-live production of a very interesting story and one that is bound to please, while the comedies are supplied by the films entitled The Fire Chief's Bride and the howling comedy called Murphy and the Mermaids. In the phrase of the day, "there is some Murphy" and also "some mermaids." Don't lorget the great feature spectacle for Monday and Tuesday, Brewster's Milions. This is another of the Colonial's big offerings.

AT THE AUDITORIUM. III Next Week, Famous Whiteside

Strauss Co.

The Whiteside-Strauss company ap-sears at the Auditorium theatre all text week, with matinees, every day, tarting Monday.

WHITTALL ANGLO-PERSIAN RUG ON EXHIBITION

Thousands Have Walked on It-Porteous & Mitchell Company to Sell It to Highest Bidder.

Several weeks ago the Porteous Mitchell company astonished the public by placing on the sidewalk in front of the main entrance to the store a large Whittall Anglo-Persian rug. It was announced that this rug was to remain on the sidewalk, day and night, remain on the sidewalk, day and night, rain or shine, for seven days, and the public was invited to walk on it.

It was difficult for some people to understand how anyone could assume such risk as was involved in this undertaking, but the manufacturers had confidence that the rug would stand the test and come out of it with all the colors absolutely unchanged and showing very slight, if any, signs of wear.

Refreshments and Danoing.

Following the whiet, which will end at 10 o'clock, refreshments will be for sale, including ice cream, cake, etc. From 10 until 12 o'clock dancing may be enjoyed. A splendid forchestra, composed of well known local musissians, will furnish the music for dancing, and it is thought that this feature of the entertainment will be thoroughly enjoyed. The ladies in charge of this affair have worked very hard to make it a success and they expect that a goodly sum will be realized which will be added to the Red Cross rellef fund for European war sufferers,

COLONIAL THEATRE. wear.
The rug remained on the sidewalk usual retail price, can be offered. On Saturday night, Oct. 24, at 9 o'clock, all bids received will be opened and the rug will go to the highest bidder. Should the highest bid be offered by more than one person, then the bid received first will be entitled to the rug. In the same window and near by the so-called sidewalk rug is a steremotograph, or, as it is sometimes called, an automatic motion picture. It is the property of the Whittall Manufacturing company and weather the company and weather the company and weather the company. ing company and presents a number of interesting views of the Whittall factory in Worcester, as well as a great many other subjects of public interest. Every evening, after dusk, since the machine was installed, there has been a crowd in front of the window.

frame, An island glimpse, all on a summ A leaf strewn wood road through th balsam winds. To where, upon a beach, the ripple play.

A gray old garm house stands above the shore,
A guil, broad-winged, against the sky floats free.
And, stretching far, unto the horizon' An azure mystery lies the encirchin -Alix Thorn.

IN THE FALL O' THE YEAR.

(A Threnody.)
In the Spring o' the year
When the snow drops appear
From all the world far and near Grief is fied.

But the Fall o' the year Brings the fall of the tear When the leaves, red and sere, All are shed.

For the Fall o' the year And the fall of the tear And the pall and the bier Of the dead.

—Henry B. Tierney. Trenton Mo.

f llars cannot go on high
Then I'll be lonesome when I die.
It will be thresome up there, gee!
With no one but T. R. and me.
—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Pretty sad, we'll agree,
If one could take you seriously;
But seeing you are such a kidder,
Shove over; here comes Herman i der.

-New York Telegram. Just you two there along with Ted-Jehoshaphat! it would be dead; But fortune dearly loves to sam Bunch up; here comes R. Harding Davis.
—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

But one other's sure to rise
To mansions in the starry skies;
For Ted himself would fiee in pain
Were Perkins missing from his train
—The Tattler.
